Short-term projects for mobility of learners and staff in adult education “Sustainability from Europe to community and around”

Mobility to attend the structured training course “Sustainability from Europe to community and around” in Brussels 21-27 JUNE 2023

A delegation made-up of five staff members from within the Italian not-for-profit organization Ten for Sustainability, reached Brussels to attend the Erasmus+ KA1 structured training course “Sustainability from Europe to community and around”, held by KI AN Ente europeo di sviluppo e cultura Asbl, acting as hosting partner organization, from June 21st up to June 27th.

The training was part of the Erasmus+ short-term projects for mobility of staff in adult education titled "Sustainability from Europe to community and around", aiming to support the personal and professional development of Ten for Sustainability's staff in order to innovate and improve the quality of its training and awareness provisions to citizens, communities, institutions, companies and other actors of societies, to Acquire direct knowledge on European Institutions and their functioning especially as regards their role in the adoption of the environmental sustainability agenda for the future as a learning experience.

This learning mobility of individuals has started on the 1st of July 2022 and ended on the 30th of June 2023, built around the participation of five members of Ten For Sustainability's staff to a structured training course in Brussels, rooted on the following:

- to frame local actions to a broader context, favoring the creation of a European perspective to lifelong learning activities specifically related to environmental sustainability and climate change, with an eye to linking them to other socio-economical relevant dimensions, in the long-term and in day-to-day operations.

- to support trainers/learners in developing a European perspectives when engaged in societal and personal challenges, helping them to discover a common European identity beyond national/local identities, as a powerful driver to attract and engage lifelong learners;

- to gain awareness as regards unity and solidarity in facing common threats such as for instance climate change and its negative impacts.

During the training course, the participants have visited the following EU institutions and symbols headquartered in Brussels: Parliamentarium; European Parliament, House of European history, Citizens Garden, Berlin Wall, Station Europe.
